I would like to know how to find the link to the public meeting for comments regarding RJJT and other public matters. Many people showed up to state their concerns given the 4pm time slot and then when a public meeting for comments was brought up by the board, the viewers and speakers of the community were not given direction to find this meeting. There were many kids and parents ready to speak and now they are very confused as to where to go an find the information to get involved. Advise Pls

I oppose the proposed city budget due to the drastic cuts towards Roberta Jones Junior Theatre. As a past performer in RJJT, I was given a safe space and community to grow and learn as an artist. RJJT is an asset to Santa Clara because the arts are a form of communication that fosters self-expression, creativity, empathy, and innovation; essentially giving us the resources we need to succeed in all aspects of life. Art builds community and RJJT is a hallmark of our Santa Clara community.

As a 10yr participant of Roberta Jones Junior Theatre, whose sister was preparing to perform in 'Mary Poppins' at the start of the COVID-19 shutdown, I oppose the city's proposal to divest from the program. RJJT shaped who I am today by providing excellent theatrical, public speaking, and leadership experience, as well as lifelong friend. While I understand the past year has been difficult budget-wise, I hope that the Council will do the right thing and prioritize this priceless community.

I am opposing the proposed city budget because it includes drastic funding cuts to the Roberta Jones Junior Theatre. I grew up in Santa Clara and RJJT was the most influential program I participated in as a child. It helped me gain confidence and feel comfortable with public speaking, and taught me responsibility. It allowed me to be creative and have fun, and I built a strong community of friends. It would be a disservice to the Santa Clara community to remove funding from this amazing program.

It appears that Mayor Gillmor violated the First Amendment during public comment by allowing failed City Council candidate Bob O'Keefe to have additional speaking time to expand on his unfounded accusations. The Mayor gave additional time to speak to someone who supports her views while not allowing extra time to those who oppose her.

Double-checking Frank Schmidt & Associates' per-acre land value trends is as simple as looking up Zillow records for individual multi-family condos (etc.) that are for sale or that have recently sold. Zillow estimates and current sale prices for all zip codes, including 95054, are up. It is disingenuous for developers to suggest otherwise.
